Estimate Population Of Continental U. S. At 105,000,000

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The population of continental United States is estimated at 105,000,000 by J. A. Hill, chief statistician of the census bureau. His calculation is based on the combined populations of 1,700 cities and towns for which statistics have been announced.

The increase over 1910 is placed at about 13,000,000, showing the growth of the country has not kept pace with previous decades. Almost complete cessation of immigration during the war is the chief reason assigned for the falling off in growth. Other suggestions were the two influenza epidemics, return of aliens to their native lands and deaths of soldiers abroad and at home during the war.

The aggregate population of the cities and towns on which the estimate was made is 41,929,351. This is an average gain of 26 per cent compared with 33 per cent in the previous decade.

Greeks Trap Army Corps Of the Turks

LONDON, June 25.—The Greek legation here has received official information that the Greek campaign against the Turkish nationalists in the Smyrna district surrounded a Turkish army corps in Philadelphia (Ala-Sheir 83 miles east of Smyrna) taking 8,000 prisoners with guns and booty.

Hitchcock Does Not Want The Vice Presidency

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, announced today that he would not accept the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

Senator Hitchcock's announcement was made in a telegram to Arthur F. Wilson, member of the Democratic national committee from Nebraska, answering a letter in which Mr. Wilson had said the senator was being prominently mentioned for the vice presidency.

"I am not a candidate for vice president and would not accept the nomination for second place," the telegram said.

The Democratic platform will not contain either a wet or dry plank in the opinion of Senator Hitchcock, but he expressed the conviction today that it will include a strong league of nations plank.

"I cannot conceive that the Democratic party will place a plank in the platform declaring for or against prohibition," he said. "Prohibition is not properly an issue between Democrats. If a dry plank were inserted it would mean the reading out of the 1912 those Democrats who had not favored prohibition. If a wet plank were adopted it would mean that the party also believe in prohibition must be outside the party."

International Court To Be Held At The Hague

THE HAGUE, June 25.—(By The Associated Press).—The commission of jurists in session here for the formation of a permanent court of international justice, as provided for in the league of nations covenant, has unanimously decided that this court shall be located at The Hague.

One Dry Well Total Assets Of Company

NEW YORK, June 25.—A dozen or more of the 50 persons caught in a net spread by post office inspectors for operators suspected of using worthless defense through the sale of worthless stocks, were expected to appear in federal court today for arraignment on indictments returned yesterday.

The indictments, five in number, charge four oil companies, ten brokerage concerns and 20 individual defendants in various cities with having used the mails to circulate "literature" which resulted in the purchase of worthless stocks by hundreds of customers. Federal authorities said the total of sales would run into the millions. Further indictments are promised.

Lewis C. Van Riper, formerly secretary to Thomas W. Lawson, was the only one of the indicted men who appeared in court yesterday. He appeared voluntarily and was held in $20,000 bail.

The indictment against Van Riper named also the United Securities Company of New York and Boston, in which he is said to be heavily interested; the Ranger Oil Company, New York; Curtis Packer & Company, New York; and others. All are charged with promoting the sale of Ranger company stock, which the indictment alleges, represents no more in assets than one dry well.

Plot Revolt Against U. S. Rule

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Evidence of the formation of a united communist party by the consolidation of the Communist Labor party and the Communist party, with the avowed purpose of fomenting a revolution against the existing government was received today at the department of justice. Steps are being taken, officials said, to guard against the spread of the propaganda.

Communist publications in the hands of the department announce the formation of the new party of a secret convention attended by delegates from the two old organizations.

"The program of the party," the publication says, "declares that the final struggle between the workers and the capitalists, between exploited and exploiter, will take the form of civil war and that it is the function of the United Communist party systematically to familiarize the working class with the necessity of armed insurrection as the only means through which the capitalist system can be overthrown."

Hail Stones Big As Apples Wreck Houses

CHEYENNE, Wyo., June 25.—Hail stones as large as apples crashed through roofs at Hillsdale, 12 miles from here last night and reduced two farm buildings near there to kindling wood, according to telephone reports early today. No casualties were reported but searching parties were sent out from Hillsdale to the storm swept area.

Some of the hail stones were said to have been 18 inches in circumference. Motorists caught in the storm crawled beneath their machines, the tops affording no protection, the reports said.

An airplane piloted by Captain C. A. McKenzie of Cheyenne last was reported at Pine Bluffs, near the storm district.

TOO MANY SMITHS IN THE RACE; HOT BATTLE OPENS

COLUMBUS, O., June 25.—Political interest in Ohio centered today on the protest filed with the secretary of state by O. K. Shimanovsky of Lakewood (Cleveland), secretary of the Ohio State Board of Commerce, against the candidacy of Harold C. Smith of Elvira for the Republican nomination for secretary of state.

Those in touch with the situation said the next move in the political battle probably would come in Elvira, home of the 21-year-old candidate for the office. Young Smith is reported to be determined to continue as a candidate.

Mr. Shimanovsky, who acted in his private capacity as a member of the Republican party in filing the protest, charged that he "had reason to believe that the candidacy of Harold C. Smith is not genuine, that he became a candidate after being solicited to declare his nomination for the purpose of confusing the voters of Ohio."

The protest alleges the move is a political plot to confuse the name of Harold C. Smith with that of Harry C. Smith, present secretary of state. He says in his protest that an attempt is being made to make a mockery of the state primary law.

Mr. Shimanovsky also has called upon Harold C. Smith to appear and verify his position. The telegram in which this demand was embodied was received by Smith at Elvira last night. It is reported.

In a statement, Mr. Shimanovsky declared the Elvira Smith is "a mere school boy."

COLUMBUS, O., June 25.—Katie Crum, Cleveland, has formally withdrawn as a candidate for the Republican nomination for attorney general. This leaves Attorney General John G. Price unopposed for re-nomination.

Mr. Crum's letter announcing her withdrawal was received by Secretary of State Smith shortly before noon today. Crum stated the action was taken in the interest of party harmony.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Speedy ratification of the treaty of Versailles, after the elimination of article X, of the league of nations covenant, was urged by Herbert C. Hoover, in a statement published today in the New York Evening Post. As the platform of which the Republican party should stand in the coming presidential election.

Mr. Hoover took the stand that the implied threat of employment of military force to guarantee the integrity of foreign states as set out in place in a league which he declared was "the product of the liberal ideals of the world."

The league's power, he declared, would be more potent if the threat of military force were removed and the league relied wholly on its "moral and economic power."

"It appears to me to be time to raise the question," said Mr. Hoover, "as to whether this same cause I refer to—the guarantee and the use of military force—that has brought about the dissolution in the United States is not also undermining the league in Europe. I put the question to the friends of the league in all countries. Has not experience and discussion shown that the time has arrived to reconsider this part of the league foundation?"

The hastened for such a "military alliance" as he sees in the league covenant with Article X intact. Mr. Hoover pointed out that "control states, which persist in armament which renders them capable of aggressive action."

While he expressed the belief that economic measures eventually would prevail even against such states, he declared the "first and foremost duty of the league" was reduction of all armaments, and he suggested that America's continuance as a league member be conditional on the achievement of a reduction within a specified time.

Mr. Hoover declared that sooner or later the United States must ratify the treaty of Versailles in some form, and that talk of negotiating a new treaty was "foolish."

"The treaty of Versailles," he said, "is the charter of independence of Poland, Czechoslovakia and Finland, and the warrant of increased national territory of several great nations, and they are not going to reopen discussion as to their titles. It is the guarantee of the disarmament of land armies and no European nation is going to risk their revival. It is a mortgage upon their states, and they are not going to offer the opportunity to Germany, Austria, Hungary, Turkey and Bulgaria to escape their debts by intrigue at a new peace conference."

The league of nations covenant is an essential part of the treaty. It does possess two functions: First, it gives the title to maritimes; it today governs certain central areas; it ramifies the scope of details of settlement with every state. Its second function is its provision for preservation of future war. The first phase can no more be repudiated than the treaty itself. The second function relates to the future and is subject to amendment; it can be amended by the

M'ADOO BOOM WILL NOT DOWN; MAY USE HIM TO BREAK POSSIBLE DEADLOCK

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—First guns of the Democratic national convention were to be fired today when the national committee met to draw up the temporary roll of delegates. Three contests had been called to the committee's attention but only one of them, that involving efforts to give Senator Reed of Missouri, a seat with the delegation from that state, promised more than routine interest. Only one contest, that from Georgia, has been officially filed with the committee.

The Georgia contest results were expected by party leaders to be settled in favor of delegates friendly to the candidacy of Attorney General Palmer, for the presidential nomination, the decision carried with it confirmation of Clark Howell as national committeeman from the state. There appeared to be no question as to the result in what was described as a "clear case," where statutory provisions in the state and party rules dictated the course of the committee.

The Reed case may prove more difficult to deal with. An effort to place the senator on the floor of the convention, although the Missouri state convention rejected him as a delegate at large, was expected and, because of his attitude toward the administration during recent battles over the peace treaty, it was said to be possible that strong resistance would be met before the committee.

The third contest, from Oregon, was not regarded as a serious case, and might not, it was said, materialize at all. In fact, national committee officials did not know before they assembled to examine credentials what appearance was to be made in any of the contest cases.

Overnight developments show two matters that have been in a nebulous stage since the first Democratic leaders arrived here to be approaching more definite shape. These were the mysterious and persistent rumor for nomination of Wm. G. McAdoo, even against his flat declaration that he was not a candidate, and the effort as to a prohibition enforcement.

Wild Spenders Use Ruse To Get Money

NEW YORK, June 25.—An epidemic of thefts of heavily insured for coats at the time when their owners had no further immediate need for them, has resulted in an investigation, which will bring many of the owners to trial on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses. H. B. Brown, vice president of the American Surety company announced today.

According to Mr. Brown, scores of New York's "wild spenders" have stored or pawned their coats and then submitted fictitious theft claims, either planners, he said, have stolen their own jewelry, silverware and money in the belief that in the epidemic of real thefts, claims would pass unchallenged.

The How and Why of Caloric Pipeless Heating

The CALORIC is a pipe furnace with the pipes left off. Neither is it an embossed, hastily put together to meet a demand. It is specially designed to heat homes, halls, churches, clubs, factories, etc., more uniformly, economically and satisfactorily than they have ever been heated by other systems.

The CALORIC works thru Nature's own laws of circulation by air currents. Warm air rises. Cold air falls. Warm air and cold air cannot occupy the same space at the same time.

HERE'S THE SECRET
In the same volume that the warm air is pumped up into the heated, an equal amount of cold air is drawn into the furnace, where it is heated, and then rises, and then is repumped up through the system. This continues as long as the fire burns.

Thus there is a constant circulation of perfectly balanced warm air. Just as cooling water circulates in a steam engine.

PIPELESS CALORIC FURNACE

See itself, so this circulating warm air, passing thru heat of from three hundred to eight hundred degrees, in which no open fire is kept, and which is healthful.

The CALORIC is guaranteed by the oldest and largest manufacturers of warm air heating systems in the United States. You take no chances when you buy a CALORIC.

Whether your home is old or new, the Caloric is easily installed in one day, without interference of your present living arrangements. No holes knocked in your walls, no cellar full of heat-wasting pipes. Inter and occupies little space. It burns any fuel, and needs hardly any attention. Makes housework much easier, as there is no more fire carrying in coal and carrying out ashes—no smoke, gas or soot. Eliminates fire danger and increases the value of your property.

Visit us and we will gladly supply full information without in the least obliging you to buy.

Wilson Urges Endorsement Of Suffrage

WASHINGTON, June 25.—President Wilson has sent messages to Governor Bickett and Senators Simmons and Overman of North Carolina, suggesting that he need not point out to them the "critical importance" of the action of the North Carolina legislature on the federal suffrage amendment when the assembly meets in special session next month.

The message to Governor Bickett follows: "I am sure I need not point out to you the critical importance of the action of your great state in the matter of suffrage amendment." The president previously had asked Governor Roberts of Tennessee to call a special session of the Tennessee legislature to act on the amendment. The president's message was sent after Acting Attorney General Fricson had ruled that the supreme court decision in the Ohio referendum case had invalidated the section of the Tennessee constitution prohibiting the legislature from passing an amendment if the members were elected before the amendment was submitted to the state.

Soviet Activities Directed From Mexico City

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Embassy of the Latin-American branch of the Third International of Moscow at Mexico City to spread Bolshevik propaganda in North and South America is reported by Execlior of Mexico City, copies of which have been received by state department officials.

According to Execlior, the Mexican capital is the center of Bolshevik activity on this continent, and it is from there that Soviet propaganda in the United States, as well as in the Latin-American countries is being directed. The Mexican police authorities, Execlior says, have begun arresting native agents of the Moscow Soviet government. At various times in the past two years, Soviet agents, plentifully supplied with money, credentials and documents, have arrived in Mexico from European ports and the United States and they are said to have built up a strong organization.

Some of them, Americans, fled from the United States to escape the draft. Execlior says the leader of the organization is a Russian named Genes, who with two others is now on his way to Moscow to obtain a fund of $15,000,000 to finance the work of the Bolsheviks in the Americas.

Nerv-Worth Has Stood the Test of Time and for Years Has Been Producing the Desired Results Every Place It Has Been Used. When You Spend Your Money for Medicine, You Want to Know That You Are Going to Get Results. Endorsements from People from Around Home and from Distant Parts of the Country Prove That It Does the Work, and Further Proof Is Found in the Fact That It Is Sold on a Money-Back Guarantee

In justice to yourself, you cannot afford to take chances with new and untried preparations. When you purchase a remedy you want something that will do the work and relieve your suffering. Nerv-Worth has given satisfactory results for many years, and has become the old reliable staple home remedy. It has been proved by trial to be one of the greatest boons to sufferers that has yet been offered. It has proved by its own work and by actual results to give entire satisfaction. It tears the endorsement of physicians and druggists as well as those to whom it has given relief and health. Letters from people in your neighborhood and from people throughout the country tell the convincing story of how Nerv-Worth has given results when everything else has failed. Read what some of these people say in the following endorsements selected at random from the millions on file at the Nerv-Worth office.

"I cannot fully express my gratitude for the wonderful merits of Nerv-Worth and its prompt action," said Geo. W. Williams, 353 N. Fourth St., Springfield, Ohio.

"I have taken two bottles of Nerv-Worth and I've seen a wonderful change. I will recommend it to the highest to anyone," said L. V. Sikes, Cochran, Pa.

"I have gained seven pounds in weight and am feeling strong and vigorous since taking one bottle of Nerv-Worth," said Leonard Perkins, 208 E. Gay St., Columbus, Ohio.

"Nerv-Worth has made me feel like a new person," Harry P. Hann, 218 S. 11th St., Independence, Kan.

"We keep Nerv-Worth in the house all the time now and wouldn't be without it," said E. R. Gray, Berkley Place, Martinsburg, W. Va.

"I am gaining strength and feel more like myself and I think Nerv-Worth is the greatest medicine I ever knew of, and I cheerfully recommend it," said Mrs. H. A. Hock, 418 Highland St., Erie, Pa.

"I am 77 years of age and have been taking Nerv-Worth and I find that after taking it I feel much better, and my wife has certainly derived a great deal of benefit from the use of Nerv-Worth," said John Maynard, enter St., Catlettsburg, Ky.

"One bottle of Nerv-Worth did me more good than three trips to Hot Springs," said Pellemann Clyde Vile, of Morgantown, W. Va.

If you suffer from indigestion, stomach trouble, nervous trouble, sleeplessness, gas in the stomach, impurities of the blood, lack of nerve force, or general run down condition, you should try Nerv-Worth. Let it start you on the way to health. It is sold on a money-back guarantee, which should convince you that it must do the work, otherwise it would not be sold that way. COURT HOUSE

Second Wife Granted a Divorce

Elizabeth Jones, No. 1, Front street, was granted a divorce from Levi W. Jones, by Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Thursday, after evidence was introduced to the effect that Jones had another wife living in Elliott county, Ky., at the time he married the plaintiff.

The couple were married April 1, 1913, and lived together six months before Mrs. Jones learned she testified of the other wife. Then followed a separation and a prosecution through the local grand jury which resulted in Jones' conviction and sentence to the penitentiary for the crime of bigamy. On his release from prison, Jones went back to Kentucky and is now living there with his first wife, it is said. The plaintiff who was restored to her former name of Hamilton, was represented by Attorney Harry Hall.

Gets Divorce and Former Name

On the grounds of neglect and willful absence, Lucretia Payne, rooming at 724 Seventh street, was granted a divorce by Judge Thomas in common pleas court Thursday, divorcing her from David C. Payne, whom she married at Parkersburg Sept. 20, 1905, and restoring her to her maiden name of Smith.

She told the court that Payne was given to the excessive use of intoxicating liquor and declared that when he came home in a drunken condition in December, 1912, and threatened to kill her, they separated and have since lived apart. The wife was represented by Attorney W. R. Sprague.

Wife Admits Charges; Coffee Divorced

James E. Coffee, employed at Dun 21, was divorced from Lucretia Coffee by Judge Thomas in common pleas court Thursday after evidence was introduced showing misconduct of the defendant with other men and which she admitted was true when the court inquired if she had anything to say in her defense.

The couple were married Jan. 20, 1917, and a year later when Coffee learned of the wife's lascivious conduct with one Leslie Telle and James Snyder, he left her, and they have since been separated, he said. Theo. K. Funk, attorney for plaintiff.

Mrs. Able Appointed

Mary Able, 1123 Third street, has been appointed by the probate court to administer the estate of her late son, William Able, who died recently at his home in this city, leaving an estate valued at $400, represented by personal property.

David Grant Will

A will made by David Grant, late Valley township farmer, on May 24, 1915, has been admitted to probate. Mr. Grant, who died at his home near Leesville recently, under his will left his daughter, Elizabeth Mackay, Leesville, the sum of $1,000 and the residue of the estate, valued at $20,000 to his widow, Josephine Grant, during her lifetime and then reverts to the daughter, Mrs. Mackay, who has been named as executrix with the will annexed.

Schmidt's Accounts

Paul Burke, school clerk and treasurer of Green township, submitted his accounts to State Examiner M. H. Jackson Friday for inspection. The examiner is holding forth in the comptroller's room at the Court House.

Coming For Jackson

A telegram was received Friday by Sheriff D. E. Rieker from Toledo authorities requesting him to hold Jesse Jackson, 23, claiming Toledo as his home, who was arrested at Dear Creek Wednesday by Game Protector Frank P. Voorhees on suspicion of having stolen the Ford automobile found in his possession.

The young man made conflicting statements concerning the ownership of the machine which resulted in an investigation and it is assumed that the deductions of the local officers that the machine had been stolen were correct as the telegram stated that an officer would be sent to return the prisoner and the car to the Maumee City. Officer Voorhees may receive a reward for making the capture.

Name Case Assigned

The case of the state against Frank Snow, charged in an indictment with a statutory offense, has been assigned for trial before Judge Thomas and a jury in Common Pleas court at one o'clock next Monday. The woman in the case was recently tried and convicted by a jury on a similar charge and convicted by a jury of a similar charge and it has been intimated Snow may change his plea from not guilty to guilty.

Two Men Hurt; Mule Killed In Auto Crash; Arrests Follow Accident

Held On Statutory Charge

Stop Tobacco

Stop tobacco for a month and see how much better you feel. You can stop without giving up any pleasure or feeling the usual craving. Simply get a box of Nicotol from any druggist, use as directed and the habit quits you. Your health will be better, your resistance to disease will increase and you will cease to be a slave to nicotine. Read what Dr. Connor, formerly of the Johns Hopkins Hospital, says in an article soon to appear in this paper. Nicotol is dispensed by all good druggists in this city especially by Flood and Blake.

A man who gave his name as W. H. Click was arrested and lodged in the city jail Thursday night by the police and held on a statutory charge. The man was taken into custody at the home of a woman named Becca Arms, 714 Kendall ave., and she will also be required to appear in Municipal court to answer a similar charge. The couple claim they were married some weeks ago by a man named George but have no documents that such a ceremony was performed. Both say they stood at papers and received no certificate of their marriage.

Ellis Brown, farmer of near Franklin, suffered a deep scalp wound, a fractured back and fractured left hip; Sylvester Wiley suffered a fractured right collarbone, dislocated shoulder and fractured right ankle and badly bruised right arm and a mule belonging to Brown was killed when Brown's wagon was struck by a Nash touring car owned and driven by Carl Woodworth of Rhodes avenue, New Boston, about 11 o'clock Thursday night, the accident occurring on Rhodes avenue about 100 yards west of West avenue. The wagon, owned by Brown and the automobile were badly damaged in the collision. The result, it is alleged, of Woodworth racing his machine with another touring car which got away.

As a result of the accident, Woodworth will face a charge of reckless driving in Mayor J. S. Davis' court at New Boston, while Wiley, who is in Hampstead hospital with Brown, will face a charge of carrying concealed weapons, the charge being placed against him after he was searched at the New Boston jail following the accident. Wiley was arrested on suspicion by Marshal Al. Haselip and Deputy Power Parsons after the officers had inspected the barrels on Brown's wrecked wagon, the officers claiming the barrels smelled like they had just been emptied of mash. After a few minutes at the jail Wiley complained of his injuries and was then taken to Hampstead hospital.

According to Woodworth, who is 29 years old and lives at 4033 Shales avenue, New Boston, he was on his way home from Portsmouth and caught up with another large touring car at Norfolk avenue, East Portsmouth. He says he attempted to pass the other car and hit the wagon. Steel plant watchman, W. I. Davis, former village marshal, says both machines came up Rhodes avenue at a racing clip and that he looked for an accident, but the crash came sooner than he expected.

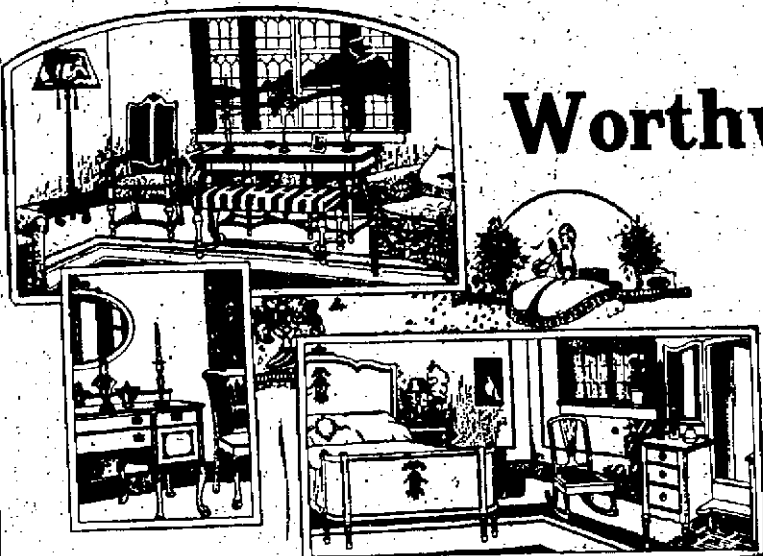

The front wheel of the automobile caught on the rear wheel of the wagon and turned the wagon completely around and over on its side. One of the team of mules was thrown to the paved street and killed. Brown was thrown clear of the wrecked wagon while Wiley was found on top of the wagon. The wagon was broken up, Wiley landing on top of the wreckage.

The bed of the wagon went through the front door of the machine and tore out the back of the right front seat. A fender and runningboard and front wheel were damaged, but the windshield was not broken.

Dr. A. H. Mills of New Boston at once sent several different names and gave his address as Robinson avenue, Sixth street and then Kentucky. He refused to give his address at the hospital and warehouse.

Boston jail he told the arresting officers several different names and gave his address as Robinson avenue, Sixth street and then Kentucky. He refused to give his address at the hospital and warehouse.

Woodworth will get his hearing before Mayor Davis today. He is employed as a crane man in the steel plant.

Worthwhile Furniture for the Homes of June Brides

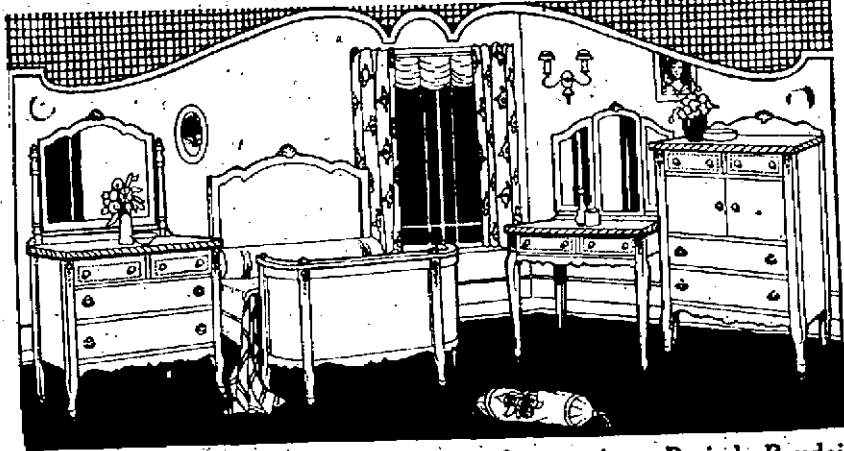

That each and every June Bride has her "heart set" on having her own home just as she had planned it, is a fact that few of us can deny. Every Tire Is Signed

Two men sign every Miller Tire—the maker and the inspector. Both are penalized if a tire comes back.

Under this method, defects have become extremely rare. Not a tire came back for adjustment to many Miller dealers last year.

Over 1,000 tires yearly are worn out in Miller factory tests.

All the best rival tires are constantly compared with the Miller, with these results:

Millers now excel all rivals; both in average and in uniform mileage.

Miller tread outwear rival treads by 25 per cent on the average.

Miller Cords average 15,000 miles—Miller Fabrics from 8,000 to 9,000 miles—in rear-wheel tests under extreme conditions.

You will gain a new idea of modern tires when you test a new-type Miller. Get one now and watch it. The super-service of the Miller Tire is now everywhere discussed.

Such policies will protect American independence from us from every European element except the use of our moral and economic strength to enforce peace. It will leave our Democratic friends focusing upon the ground of advocacy of a practical military alliance—upon which their safety devices only further endanger the real value of the league."

SWITCHMEN ARE READY TO GO BACK IF SENIORITY RESTORED, RESOLUTIONS SAY

At a mass meeting of the striking switchmen on the N. & W. held Thursday evening in their hall in the Royal Exchange & Loan Building, resolutions were adopted, saying the men who are now out are "ready to resume their duties, provided they will be assured of their seniority standing, which means to them years of service."

The resolutions in full are as follows:

WHEREAS, the railroads in the United States have been furnishing only partial service to the people of the Nation, and

WHEREAS, several reasons have been assigned for this condition, viz., shortage of rolling stock and other material, and

WHEREAS, early in the month of April of this year thousands of employees in the several branches of railroad transportation service left their employment as a protest against further delay in bringing about an increased wage which had been delayed through broken promises for nearly nineteen months, and

WHEREAS, after the employees had been away from their chosen vocations for several days the President of the United States, Honorable Woodrow Wilson, appointed under the terms of the Transportation Act 1920 a body known as the United States Wage Board which was confirmed by the United States Senate, and

WHEREAS, this wage board organized and started to function on April 19th, 1920, and

WHEREAS, the men believing then an effort would be made to adjust wages and working conditions that would bring to the railway workers a living wage, did make honorable effort to bring about a return to service of all men and women who were out and which would again return the railroad facilities to normal, but were refused by the General Managers Committee who declared for a finish fight, and

WHEREAS, the men have repeatedly since, through their representatives, tried to bring about a settlement, in the interests of the public that the avenues of commerce might be opened without the attendant loss, suffering, delay and inconvenience, and

WHEREAS, in their efforts to accomplish this they have tried to get their case before the Wage Labor Board, the Department of Justice through Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, and have interviewed a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, without results, we, therefore, in session at Portsmouth, Ohio, on June 24th, 1920, have

RESOLVED to appeal to the press and through the press to the public, to the Chambers of Commerce, Boards of Trade, Manufacturers Associations, Rotary Clubs, etc. to join with us in our effort to bring before the Interstate Commerce Commission this fact: That the railroad workers now away from service are and have been ready to resume their duties and take up the orderly conduct of business where they left off provided they will be assured of their seniority standing which means to them years of service, that a speedy settlement can be reached in the interests of the people of the Nation, and, it has been further

GERMS OF RHEUMATISM

Find Out What Causes Your Suffering and Go After It

"What is Rheumatism?" is a question that has not yet been answered entirely satisfactorily. There are still different opinions as to its exact cause, but little doubt that its pains are real.

The medical profession is practically agreed upon one point, however, and that is that Rheumatism is more than a series of local pains, and that the real cause of the disease is deep-seated, and cannot possibly be reached by remedies applied to the surface.

Some forms of this disease have been found to come from tiny germs in the blood, which set up their colony in the muscles, or joints and tend to multiply by the million. You can easily understand, therefore, that the only intelligent method of treating such cases is through the blood.

S. S. S. is such a thorough blood purifier and cleanser that it can be relied upon to search out all disease germs and impurities and eliminate them from the system, and this is why it is such an excellent remedy for Rheumatism.

Go to your drug store and get a bottle of S. S. S. today, and if your case needs special attention, you can obtain medical advice free by writing fully to Chief Medical Adviser, 1002 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Georgia.

High Quality Wicker-
Ware.

There is nothing we like to have you do better than to compare prices and quality. Look all around and see if we do not undersell all stores. See for yourself if it isn't a fact that this store gives you better values — and after all that is the real secret in buying. Many people imagine that all stores do business on the same profits. Perhaps they do, but it is in the buying of merchandise that tells the story of dealer to customer. We operate a great chain of stores and employ a corps of buyers who are constantly in the furniture markets, looking for the best bargains and who buy in such tremendous quantities that they always without fail secure the lowest prices. This enables us to maintain our margin of profit, which is always based on the cost price. Hence the buyer gets it for less — simplest thing in the world and the only reason why our patrons pay less for their merchandise.

This store has won high regard in the minds of Portsmouth people. There is never a time that we would take advantage of the public. We always carry a complete stock — of quality goods, and dispose of them at less prices because we are in a position to do that very thing. We know we can please you and we invite your account. We will treat you honestly and fairly, going on the theory that if we do that we are always assured of your business. We are constantly opening new accounts and would like to have you come in, get acquainted with our method of doing business and allow us the pleasure of giving you a square deal.

Our Household Club Plan enables you to use your furniture while paying for it. Ask our salesmen—they will be glad to explain.

OPEN CARS MUST BE USED ONLY FOR COAL SHIPMENTS FOR 30 DAYS

Through a ruling issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission effective for 30 days all railroads in the U. S. will not be able to use open top cars for anything except coal.

There is a shortage of coal carrying cars and it is believed this ruling will go along way toward clearing it up. Cars with 30 inch sides or more cannot be used for anything other than coal for 30 days unless they are to be used in carrying shipments towards the coal fields.

At the N. and W. offices in East Portsmouth it was stated in his ruling would not interfere seriously with shipments from the Whitaker-Glessner, Portsmouth Solway Coke plant or the blast furnace in New Boston.

Veracity of Stars.

From the spectroscopic measurements made at Mt. Wilson observatory stars (i. e. the speed with which they are approaching or receding from our solar system). It appears that the star A. G. Herlin has a radial velocity of 350 kilometers a second, the highest constant velocity so far observed for any star. Next to this comes Lelande, with a velocity of 325 kilometers a second, in the opposite direction.

High-Sounding Tittles.

Chinese emperors were never mentioned by name from the moment of their accession, and are generally alluded to by some such title as 'Lord of a Myriad Years' or 'The Son of Heaven.'

MAKING WRONG EYES RIGHT

Has nothing to do with changing the eyes. A wrong eye cannot be altered. It always remains a wrong eye. But an optometrist can tell WHY the eye is wrong, and how much it deviates from the normal. Then he places lenses before it and neutralizes the wrongful tendency, and the eye is for all practical purposes a perfect eye. Of course lenses will not make ALL eyes perfect but they do so in many cases, and always help. May we enquire if your eyes need our attention?

OBITUARY

Ruth Elizabeth Cooper The funeral services of Miss Ruth Elizabeth Cooper, who succumbed to heart trouble and rheumatism, Wednesday, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cooper, 1823 Eighth street, will be held at the Trinity M. E. church, at 2:30 (local time) Saturday afternoon, under the auspices of the Central Lodge, Temperance Legion, of which the deceased was a leading member. Rev. N. E. She was a precocious child, very much interested in her lessons and school affairs. Despite the fact that she became ill, two weeks before school closed and missed the final tests, she was promoted to the eighth grade. She was a member of the Trinity M. E. church and Sunday school. Besides her parents she is survived by her two brothers, Paul and Howard.

BUG-OLOGA

Bugs lay an average of seven eggs per day. Under favorable conditions they hatch in five days of which two-thirds are females. They mature to adult size and are capable of laying in four weeks. How many bugs would you have in a year if you left one female or egg unattended for one year? To get the answer, you can readily see how necessary it is to use a preparation that will kill the eggs as well as the live ones. P. D. Q. has been demonstrated by the faculty of the Hospital, Hotel and Railroad Commission that the safest and most economical way to stop future generations of bed bugs, roaches, fleas and ants is to use the new discovery, Pesty Devils Outings. A 25¢ package of P. D. Q. makes a cover, enough to kill a million bed bugs, roaches, fleas and ants in 10 to 15 days. It is impossible for them to resist when P. D. Q. is properly used. Free, patent spots in every package to get the Pesty Devils in the hard-to-get-at places. Special Hospital and Hotel size 50¢. P. D. Q. has it or can get it for you, or send it to you upon receipt of price by the Dr. Chemical Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Success of P. D. Q. has caused millions of people to use it. It is never peddled. Sold by Dr. Chemical Co., Stahlers Drug Co., Fisher & French, J. F. Davis, Flood & Blake.

Will Not Sacrifice Womanly Modesty

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Conservation of cloth at the expense of womanly modesty will not be endorsed by the government, representatives of the National Garment Manufacturers Association were told today by Howard Figg, assistant to the attorney general in charge of the campaign to reduce prices.

The retailers presented for Mr. Figg's inspection three living models dressed in knee length gowns designed as the extreme in women's wear for next fall.

Mr. Figg declined to indicate what he considered a proper length for skirts, but declared, after viewing the extreme styles that skirts should "at least come below the waist."

The retailers approved Mr. Figg's suggestion that coming styles should be changed as little as possible so that women might not feel compelled to wear out their clothes and not feel compelled to change the differing modes.

STRANGE CLIENTS

By ALDEN CHAPMAN

(Copyright, 1920, Western Newspaper Union.)

It was a good deal of satisfaction to Lucius Mangold to reckon up profits and prospects at the end of two years' practice of the law. There had been a program that was gratifying and encouraging.

"It is a reward for good hard work, faithfulness and self denial," he complimented himself.

Mangold looked up as a step echoed at the office threshold. The doorway framed a modestly dressed young girl of about nineteen. She had a face that showed character and true womanliness. At a glance he noted that her attire, while neat, was somewhat worn. Her gloves, were mended and the handbag she carried was old and faded. To his analytical mind here was a young lady of quite superior mold, but with certain traces of care in the shadowed eyes.

"I come now, client," she spoke. "I noticed your name as a lawyer, but I have no money to pay for your services."

"Be seated, please," invited Mangold, setting a chair for this plain speaking visitor, and they faced one another, she slightly embarrassed, he endeavoring to set her at her ease.

"I am Elita Vayre," she spoke, "and need advice. I have to work for a living as a stenographer and live with an invalid aunt. About a month since a firm of lawyers, Parker & Merton, wrote me to call at their office. Do you know the firm?"

Mangold simply nodded. He indeed knew the discredited pettifoggers and nothing good of them, but he did not commit himself verbally.

"They were looking for one Elita Vayre, heiress to a portion of the estate of Robert Vayre," they told me. Was that the name of my uncle? It was, I informed them. The rest was easy, they said. If I would sign a contract awarding them twenty per cent and swear to my identity they would secure for me a legacy of over $10,000. I was quite stunned at the proposal, but I did not like the secret, sinister way of those two men. I asked time to think it over. I have come to you."

"To see that your rights are conserved?" Yes," submitted Mangold.

"No, for I have no rights at all in the matter," was the amazing reply. "for I am not the rightful Elita Vayre, and I believe they know it. By accident I noticed among some notations they had that their Elita Vayre died two years ago. My uncle has been dead five years."

The wonderment and interest of Lucius Mangold were alike aroused. "And then," he hurriedly went on his feet. "There came to me a singular suggestion of memory. A year since, when I was living at Columbus I incidentally heard of a young lady working in the same building where I did whose name was the same as mine. I can give her address of that period. The surname is not a common one. I believe that she is the rightful heiress of the rightful Robert Vayre, and I wish you would ascertain if this is not true. She was a poor girl like myself, and the legacy would probably mean great joy and happiness for her."

The nobility in the mind of this conscientious, unselfish girl awoke the deepest respect and admiration in the mind of Mangold. He showed it so clearly in his face that his caller flushed.

"Please tell me further details if you can," he suggested. "Your address, and I will let you know the result of my investigation in a few days."

Mangold wrote at once to the Miss Vayre at Columbus. Four days later an animated, buoyant young lady called in person, announcing herself as the recipient of his letter.

"I can scarcely realize that I am the person you have described," she said, "but my uncle was Robert Vayre and I can establish other points of which you advised me."

Within two days Mangold fully established the fact that his present client was the real heiress to the Vayre legacy, but he did not work through Parker & Merton, but with the administrator of the Vayre estate, and his vivacious and delighted client insisted that she who bore the same name should be sent for at once.

Mangold's first client happened to come to the office when he and her double as name were conversing pleasantly, and the picture of a young girl of means and so attractive young man seemed to cause the visitor to contrast her own forlorn condition depressingly.

"You dear, sweet friend," spoke the heiress warm, friendly. "Do you comprehend what you have done for me? I have just told Mr. Mangold that you shall have a generous recognition of your thoughtfulness."

"Thank you," spoke the other distantly. "I could accept none."

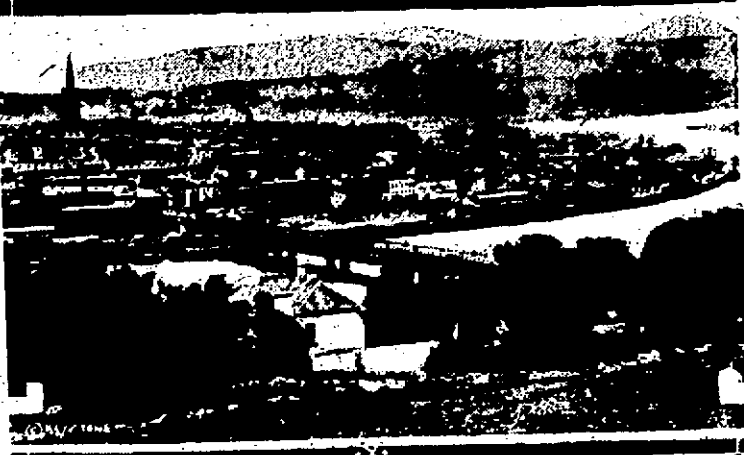

"Oh, but you must! Think of it! Now I have told you and I can marry! Oh! such a happy fortune, and you must share it!"

Instantly the dulled face of Mangold's first client unclouded. The young lawyer possessed a new thought that gave him comfort. Was it because she was relieved at the discovery that her double already had a fiance that she at once grew more gracious?

He surmised it and his first impression of something more than friendly esteem for his first client quickened into a deeper sentiment that the future developed into love.

Edinburgh Landmark Gone. An interesting bit of old Edinburgh, dating back about 1000, has been burned. The destroyed building, which consisted of a single story and attic, was one of the landmarks of the Holyrood area. It was the old Yew Tree tavern, and stood inside the bounds of the Holyrood sanctuary for debtors, within because the meat of an animal which, in days of yore, the fugitive debtors color mark was considered in-credulous.

18 Chickens Are Stolen

Where the Spike Went. Answering a question as to what became of the gold spike that was driven into the last rail laid in building the Union Pacific railroad on its completion in 1869, a subscriber writes: "It was first photographed, and then melted up and recast into very small spikes about 15-18ths of an inch long, and they were distributed to the more prominent railroad men present. Among the recipients was my father, now deceased, from whom I received one of the photographs mentioned and a miniature gold spike. There are probably very few of these now in existence. The original spike was full size and engraved with the officers' names and dated May 10, 1869, and the words: 'Last spike of the Pacific Railroad,' and 'Presented by D. Hewes.'—Outlook.

BIRTHS

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Estep, Seventeen and Boundary streets, Friday morning. Mr. Estep is a well known stenographer.

Miss Elizabeth Smith of Gallia street is ill with tonsillitis.

Naturalists have arrived at the conclusion that the brain in birds is large in proportion to the body. If it is admitted that intelligence depends upon the weight of brain, then the goldfinch must be placed at the top of the list of birds; the brain weighs one-fourteenth of its whole body.

World's Wettest Spot

The wettest place distinction, so long held by Cherrapunji in Assam, seems to have passed to Nainital, in the island of Kauai, Hawaii. This spot is seldom free from clouds, and Prof. D. H. Campbell of Stanford university finds that the rainfall of 1912 to 1918, inclusive, averaged 518 inches yearly, the amount on one occasion having been 30 inches a day for five days. The yearly average for the world is variously estimated at 30 to 80 inches. The Cherrapunji average for 40 years has been 426 inches, though the 1901 report was 905 inches.

Yale Takes Two Races

Yale also won the second race, the Junior varsity eight oared crew defeating Harvard by 1 1/2 lengths.

Honor Seats For Ohio's Delegation

COLUMBUS, O., June 25.—Only forty eight delegates to the Republican national convention who voted for the nomination of Senator Harding for president are to be the honored guests at the Republican state convention.

George T. Poor, Cincinnati, secretary of the convention today asked that the committee on arrangements, in making provisions for seating the delegates, Mr. Buckley at once give orders for a special reservation of forty eight seats for them.

Denmark Has Oldest Flag

The flag of Denmark, a plain red banner, bearing on it a white cross, is the oldest flag now in existence. For more than 500 years both Norway and Sweden were united with Denmark under this flag. In the year 1212 King Waldemar of Denmark, when leading his troops to battle against the Livonians, saw, or thought he saw, a bright light in the form of a cross in the sky. He held this appearance to be a promise of divine aid, and pressed forward to victory. From this time he had the cross placed on the flag of his country and called it the Dannebrog—that is, the strength of Denmark.

TO EMPLOY SEVEN NEW FIAEMEN

ATTEMPT TO OUST REED FROM THE PARTY MAY CAUSE BATTLE AT DEM CONVENTION

Senator James A. Reed.

There is talk that the Democratic national convention will attempt to read out of the party Senator James A. Reed of Missouri to show its loyalty to the policies of the present Democratic administration. Senator Reed is a delegate from the Fifth congressional district in his home state. If this action is taken by the convention then the convention committee on credentials will follow by unseating him. These moves will provoke a battle, his friends say. Reed always has been known as a "scrapper."

Safety Director St. Straus stated Friday that on July 10 seven extra firemen would be employed, in the city and two extra police, provisions to this end having been made by city council.

On this date the increase in pay, recently granted to firemen and policemen, will become effective. Many applications are being received by Mr. Straus for the positions.

Complete German Cabinet

BERLIN, June 25.—The German chancellor, Konstantin Fehrenbach, has completed the formation of a cabinet. It was announced today.

Best Preparation for Writer.
"Read the Bible for illumination, knowledge and power," said Dana: "Gulliver's Travels" for detail, and Robert Louis Stevenson for style. Any man or woman who will make a study of the Bible, and who will analyze "Gulliver's Travels" and slog Robert Louis Stevenson into his heart, will become a good writer, provided there is also natural talent to start with.

water in the lap of a young married man. The glass broke, the water spilled, the man jumped up—and Ooh! La! La!!

Postoffice Robbed

Burglars sometime Thursday night entered the postoffice and general store of J. A. McCall at South Webster but secured a small amount of property, the loot consisting of a couple parcels post packages, a small sum of money and some articles of wearing apparel. The intruders gained entrance by smashing a glass door and reaching in side released the night latch. The robbery is being investigated by Sheriff Rickey.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank my friends and neighbors for their kindness in the recent sudden death of my husband, Wm. Koger, especially the Street Railway employees for their sympathy, also givers of the many beautiful floral tributes. Rev. Powell for his comforting words and Undertaker Smalley for the way in which he conducted the funeral. The kindness of all will never be forgotten.
MRS. WM. KOGER, New Boston.

In the Bible.
Wheat is mentioned in more than sixty passages of the Bible, and in other passages it is included in the general term "corn." In England, by the way, if you mention corn you are supposed to mean wheat, that being the leading kind of corn grown in the country, though the word is also used to indicate the cereals generally. In Scotland "corn" is taken to mean oats. And on this continent the word has been stolen and monopolized by what the early colonists called "Indian corn."

Foolish Old Customs Survive.
St. Olav's Grammar school, once worth $150, is now valued at $25,000, but the rent is still a bunch of roses. The ancient city of Winchester must provide a string for the king's "cross bow," while the lord of Brynston, in Dorset, must provide a boy with a stringless bow and unfeathered arrow, whenever the king makes war on Wales. The tenant at Bradley, Great Wood, near Grimsby, must pay the mayor of Grimsby a wild boar, or its equivalent in cash, yearly.—London Times.

Advantage of Travel.
Travel is a great educator and we noticed in the conversation at luncheon yesterday that a little dab of warm-over codfish, placed out with one egg to make it somewhere near enough, had become cussollette of Newfoundland cod aux oeufs.—Ohio State Journal.

Back From Big Meeting

Rev. D. C. Wolfe and wife of Mundy church have returned from Hamilton where they were in attendance at the Ohio State Sunday School convention which opened June 22 and closed June 25. W. W. Gates, county S. S. superintendent, and E. E. Barnhart, instructor of religious education were among the other Seloto county Sunday school people present. Speakers of much ability in Bible school work made inspiring addresses. The convention was one of the biggest in the history of the state. One new feature this year was the daily vacation Bible school held in connection with the convention. Rev. P. C. Vernon of Wilmington conducted the school. On Thursday after a model daily vacation Bible school was conducted with Miss Gertrude Parke as one of the instructors. Miss Payne looked after the schools here this year.

MUSTARD WILL CASE BEING HEARD

Will of the celebrated will contest, mer, died more than two years ago, leaving the bulk of his estate, consisting principally of a valuable farm near Otway, under his will, which was admitted to probate, to his son, the defendant, and cutting his other children off without anything. They then brought suit to set aside the will on the grounds of lack of mental capacity and undue influence.

This is the second trial of the case, and in the other hearing the defense contended that Mr. Mustard had made provision for his other children previous to his death. The other trial resulted in the court directing a verdict sustaining the will, but Court of Appeals held this was error and remanded the case for retrial.

Quite an array of witnesses were present in court this morning to testify in the case and it probably will require the entire day to complete the evidence.

Attorneys Theo K. Funk and Miller & Seal for the contestants, opposed by Attorney A. Z. Blair for the proponent of the will.

Boy Hit By Truck

Starting across the street to tell his father about some boys with whom he had been playing on the corner of Eleventh and Waller streets, Thursday noon, Joseph France, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip France, 1210 Eleventh street, was struck on the head and knocked down by a large truck.

The truck came up Eleventh street, turned north on Waller, and east on Twelfth without stopping. After he had struck the boy, bystanders say they yelled at the driver who kept on going.

The boy was injured by the head, and suffered many bruises, besides a deep gash in the forehead, and a badly hurt nose. He was unconscious and delirious for a time, and can not remember the details of the accident. Clyde Cook carried him to the France home which is just across the street. Dr. W. D. Micklethwait was called, and took several stitches in the boy's forehead. He was somewhat improved Friday, but is not yet able to reason clearly.

Several boys standing on the corner said the truck had large white lettering, and a mattress and rocking chair in it. Mrs. France said this morning that the family did not intend to have the driver arrested, but that they would like to know who he was.

Miss Cyrus was walking in the road when Roberts' car crashed into her, hurled her 50 feet. The force of the blow knocked one of the shoes (approximately 75 feet. He turned back and started for help.

OLIVE THOMAS
FOOTLIGHTS AND SHADOWS
Belmont. Pleasure.

Oliver Thomas, with numbers among her admirers a major portion of the motion picture public, will have an opportunity to show her friends that she is an actress as well as a beauty in her new Selznick picture, "Footlights and Shadows," which opens at the Strand for 2 days commencing tonight.

One of the big scenes is a fire in a theatre when she is compelled to go down into the audience and save the man she loves from being trampled beneath the panic stricken mob. There is another big scene in her apartment when her sweetheart fights furiously with a man who has made an insulting proposal to her.

A cast of screen favorites supports Miss Thomas, with Alexander Dowse as her leading man. The photography and lighting effects, together with the stage settings, are excellent and it is altogether a delightful entertainment.

A good Polish comedy and the Fox News complete the show.

Carson Hurt was the one strong man in his home city. When the workers of that city had been grievously misled by foreign propaganda, he stepped in to strike when confidence in the workers had been won through victory tactics. He had been the cost. Therefore Hurt fought like a tiger. He parlayed not with Bolshevism. He substituted red-blooded Americanism instead. He preached common sense and true brotherhood of man. He showed the proper relation between the workers and the employers. And he was out, giving satisfaction to both factions. That's a brief synopsis of

Once more we can announce the arrival of that popular star, Bessie Hayakawa and he will be seen at the Higabilt Theatre tonight in his newest picture "The Devil's Glimp." Hayakawa plays the part of a Persian author in a story that will stir and please you. You can't help liking Hayakawa and you will find the same way about Hra Miland and Coleen Moore, who support him in this picture. The story is a tale of the Orient, woe laden and laid into Latin quater of New York. It is a love story intermingled with one of Hindu intrigue and mysticism, and one that you cannot allow yourself to miss. Don't forget, tomorrow, one day only. NEW YORK, June 25.—The rule which the Royal and Ancient Golf Club Committee will recommend on stymps is received here today in a cablegram from Howard F. Before one of the largest crowds of the year the Solvays put quite a crimp in the pennant ambitions of the N. Y. and W. team at the Seventeenth street yards last evening, when they won a grepping contest by the score of 5 to 1. There was never much question as to the outcome after the first frame when the Solvays scored a couple of runs as the result of a couple of singles, a sacrifice, base on balls, a hit batsman and some good base running. Getting the jump on their adversaries early the victors were not full of pepper and simply were not going to be dominated the sweets of victory. They gave their pitcher, Mr. Townsend air tight support and wanted the delivery of Landon Wells with considerable consistency and frequency. The chief offender in a clucking sense was "Shoestring" Shultz, one of the gamiest, strongest and most brilliant players in the league. He secured three solid raris, one of which was a triple, scoring on others, He played a grand game, the field making several hurried accurate throws and all in all was one of the prime factors in the victory which brought the Hallroaders on level with the Steelmen and placed the Sojourners within one-half game first place.

Mr. Townsend was in rare form and pitched a very careful and accurate game. He retired the side in order four of the seven innings and came within an ace of shutting out the hitting Ballroaders, who managed to score a run across in the last inning due to a couple of hits, started by Frank Keyer and finished by Y. G. Brooks. Townsend allowed by Y. G. Brooks two of which were of the surer variety. He only fanned but two of which would indicate his delivery

2 hand precious few solid smashes were made off his offerings, and all in all he was quite highly elated over the way that left arm of his did his thing.

0 Wells was not nearly so effective as usual, although he seemed to have a good deal of stuff. Had Wells been able to get by Shultz, he might have secured a victory. But "Shorty" said he was not going to be denied last of his kind and he found Wells made to order.

A grand crowd was out—one took up every inch of available space. The playing field was ten deep with humanity and the athletes on teams were warmly applauded when they did something notable-worthy. Some were intelligently played, some or two excrucious, and while Shortyries out played their adversaries, the Railroaders fought all the time and absolutely refused to give up. Manager Thiemes of the N. and W.

added to first and James walked. Meyers faced the issue very calmly and drove a wicked single to right, scoring Shultz and Cooper. On Shoemaker's rap to short, James was forced at third and Potts lofted to short. The Soxers made one in the fifth. Townsend beat out a rap to third, and Shultz followed suit. Schwehnberg laid down a neat sacrifice, which Coopers potted, filling the sacks. Cooper immediately singled to left, scoring Townsend. On James' loft to short, Shultz was doubled off third. Meyers then rolled to first. In the sixth the winners added two more. Shoemaker was safe on Hicks' wild throw, that knocked over a half dozen fans on the first base line. Potts flung to right and Blake beat out a punt to the box, although had Hicks kept his head up, Wells would have forced Shoemaker on the play. Townsend flamed, but that awful man, "Shorty" Shultz, blared a triple through center, scoring "Shoemaker" and Blake. Schwehnberg rolled to third, a very

The Halllanders came near scoring in the opening inning but were finally blocked. Smith walked and took second on Wells' rap to the box. Hitts was given credit for a hit because Potts held the ball. The next two batters were easy, however. The Halllanders made their only score of the game in the last frame. Kewer singled through Townsend and took second on Timmus roller. On Vaughn's fly to right, Kewer raced to third but would have been a dead bird had Meyers' perfect chuck not hit the runner in the back. He scored on Goodie's sharp single to left. Sowards, who played a great game at short for the Railroaders, then lofted to James for the final out. The score:

Best Baseball Attraction Of Year Sunday

Greatest interest is being manifested in the double header at Millbrook Park Sunday afternoon when the two crack colored teams, Buckeyes of Portsmouth and Bevos of Ironport, meet in battle array to be followed by the greatest game of the season, (able's) All Stars vs. the Mendels, champions of Columbus.

The grounds have been placed in elegant condition for the big double bill and judging from the interest taken in the big athletic attraction, the latter crowd of the year will be out.

The colored teams are expected to furnish all sorts of fun and each aggregation will play their heads off to win in that the victor will receive every penny of the big purse that Quaker Gambleman will hang up. It will be war to the hilt when the two dusky teams meet and the fur is expected to fly in every conceivable direction.

The first game will start promptly at 1:15 o'clock and will go seven innings or to a decision. The Buckeyes will be dolled out in uniforms of many paces and stripes and have been practicing faithfully for the big event. The Pates are coming heralded as world leavers and they expect to make the Buckers look like selling platers before the game comes to a close. The Buckeyes are not at all alarmed about the reputation of their leavon brethren and will be out there tight-fine like mad to cup the purse, which will be chock full of shining dollars. All in all, the certain raiser is going to be a scream, one that will make a Charlie Chaplin production look like an East Lyn production.

Instructing Grandpa.
 "I was talking to my little granddaughter over the telephone the other day," said an old man recently to one of his friends at a hotel. "As when I ended I said, 'Here, Dorch is a kiss for you.' She replied, 'Thank you, grandpa! Don't you know that a kiss over the telephone is like blowing hot?' I said, 'Why, no, sweetheart, how's that?' It's not felt, that's all," said the Englishman (London).

The St. Louis Cardinals broke their losing streak Thursday when they defeated Boston, 7 to 4. The team has won all of its last four and is ready to go some again. Manager Dickie says his club will be around the top all season and this lad is usually about right. You tell 'em Cards, you're on deck.

PHILADELPHIA, June 25—Mayor Moran would like to have Fred Uferus, of the Phillies, to help out, but that Danbert is hurt and it may be too late to get the veteran first baseman. Uferus would like to leave here, as he does not approve of Manager Ularath's methods, and would do better somewhere else. 4

The famous Vicks of Cincinnati will play the All Stars in Millbrook

The Reds will soon open a long series at home. If the team is to win this season, it will have to win a big percentage of these games. Now are in form. Moran's hopes are mounted. He is confident his club will grab the lead this year and will be one team that wins in the American League.

The St. Louis and Cincinnati clubs will stage a double header in Cincinnati.

These will be bitterly contested as these clubs are real rivals. Riskey has declared that he would not trade his infield for the Reds and this started trouble. The fur will fly in the future.

Big Frank Nesser is up to his old tricks in the Three Eye League. He is with the Peoria team and is hitting in addition. In a recent game against Cedar Rapids, he was up three times and lined out a single, double and triple. Nesser formerly played with Lima and Chillicothe in the Ohio State League.

The Reds got back on their winning stride again yesterday when the club beat the Phils. 5 to 3. It was the first time since the Salles turn-out in the winner. The team played 14 games on the trip and broke even which is pretty good considering the condition of the tied burlers.

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—Meadows has been going at a great clip this year, having won seven games and lost only one. If he had not been injured and out of the game for a month, the odds are good that he is fast pace.

The New York Giants have been playing good ball the past week and the team is due for a string of victories. They again beat the Cubs today and will not be around the bottom much longer. McGraw and his pitchers are the best in the league and now that they are in form the club should step loose.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Thoughts of the old-fashioned New York Puck of yesteryear in Times Square? The old Puck could do something with the idea. There's a little back from the California studio. Irvin Cobb picked him for the film version of his story "The Smart Alec." Every body wearing smoked glasses. Wonder if its wood alcohol.

Broadway's freak palace closed. The day of the old-fashioned conventional night shirt and modest pajama is over, according to New York dealers in men's wear. Men are now demanding color in their night togs. Lavender and pink, stripes of every color, flowered material and everything that has a bizarre touch is demanded. Dealers say that before the war and prohibition a male customer was insulted if he was shown anything in heliotrope for night wear. He wanted only white. Now they declare that white is only for those ready for the undertaker. Jazz, it appears, has even reached Slumberland.

Green automobile drivers tag their cars now with the sign "Just Learning to Drive." The "Just Learning" looking gentleman in Billy Kertel's head waiter. Knows all the millionaires and spends three months a year at his villa in France. Oppenheim used him as a central character in one of his novels.

The day of the old-fashioned conventional night shirt and modest pajama is over, according to New York dealers in men's wear. Men are now demanding color in their night togs. Lavender and pink, stripes of every color, flowered material and everything that has a bizarre touch is demanded. Dealers say that before the war and prohibition a male customer was insulted if he was shown anything in heliotrope for night wear. He wanted only white. Now they declare that white is only for those ready for the undertaker. Jazz, it appears, has even reached Slumberland.

For a number of years they have only tolerated one another for their thrashbare excuse—their little child. He has gone his way and she has gone hers. By a queer trick of fate they were seated in the same box at a Broadway opening the other night. He was with a strange woman and she was with a strange man. Only two avenues of escape were open. Introductions or departures. They hit upon the former and a more amazing complication was presented. The strange man was the divorced husband of the strange woman. The divorced pair had never mentioned being married years ago in the west. And the comedian said broadly during the process of the play: "It's a small world after all."

WHO'S WHO In The Days House

GEN. JOHN ARTHUR LE JEUNE—The appointment of Maj. Gen. John A. Le Jeune to succeed Maj. Gen. George Hazlett as commander of the U. S. marines is one more signal honor that has just come to the man who commanded all the marines in France during the critical days of America's participation in the war.

MAJ. GEN. LE JEUNE

General Le Jeune was born in Chicago, Ill., in 1859. He was appointed to the U. S. Naval Academy in 1877 and graduated in 1881. During his two years at the academy he followed his graduation by serving on the U. S. S. Albatross in the memorable hurricane in the harbor of Apia, Samoa, in 1889. He was appointed a second lieutenant in the marines in 1890, first lieutenant in 1892, captain in 1899, major in 1903, lieutenant colonel in 1908, colonel in 1914 and brigadier in 1916. General Le Jeune was in command of the marines on board the Cincinnati during the Spanish-American war; commanded a battalion of marines on the Isthmus of Panama, 1903-4; commanded a brigade in the Philippines, 1908-9; commanded a brigade of marines during the capture of Vera Cruz, 1914, and was made assistant to the commander of the marine corps at Washington in 1918. When America entered the war he was commander of the marine barracks at Quantico, Va. He was put in command of all the marines in France when General Devens was involved home. It was while he was serving in France that Le Jeune was raised to his present rank of major general.

Koreans Well Advanced

The Koreans are much superior to both Japanese and Chinese in culture of heart and in mentality. They are progressive on constructive lines; in economics they equal America, and their spiritual side is well balanced. Both men and women being eager for knowledge on ethical lines. They are intelligent and refined in their moral nature.—Chicago Daily News.

HOMEGAIN MYRA—No More the Opening of the Democratic Convention. But Decides That A Reporter's Life Is Too Stressful For Him And Quits.

Dear Editor and readers: Well I seen the big convention the greatest show on earth and now I'm satisfied and I'm done with this reporter's stuff for good. The show was going full blast when I arrived at the Auditorium and I started to walk right in but a guard stopped me and asked for my ticket. That started the racket. I had no ticket but insisted on going in regardless. I didn't aim to travel 2000 miles and not see the big doings—there was so much excitement inside that our little argument about my admission ticket passed unnoticed—anyway I got by—but much the worse for wear—those guards are bushies! I finally landed in the gallery and found out after wards the seats there were worth $100 each. The interior of the hall seemed as big as all outdoors and was decorated with millions of flags and chains filled with a hollering and singing mass of men and women. On a little stage that looked like the officer's bridge on a battle ship a man was trying to make a speech—it was a wonderful sight and worth the trip and the fight to get in. If I can get my grip out of the hands of Shandon Brothers without getting shanghai'd I'll take the first train for Homegain—Hiram.

The DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

CECIL'S LOVE MAKING IS HARD TO RESIST

The men took their departure some time round about midnight, and then Dorry and I had a grand laugh at Jean and Cecil. We ate a little supper before retiring, and tumbled into our beds, happily.

The next morning we went clamoring and got enough claims for a badly good lunch, which we ate on the beach in our bathing suits. It was while we were eating and eating, thus draped, or rather lightly attired, that we heard a hullo and saw the tall form of Cecil coming towards us from the house. Of course we were not up at all, no indeed, what though we had our hair down our backs drying, and one-piece bathing suits on, and all that. We smiled at the intruder and offered him some lunch—what was left of it, which he accepted eagerly. I felt compelled to ask this important relation of mine how he dared to break in thus rudely upon our happy, bachelor holiday, and he told me that mother had sent him with a large parcel of goods, which were in the car, and awaiting our approval. Poor dear mother. No doubt she was worried to death that we would be too lazy to cook ourselves any meals. She knows us pretty well, after all. We were grateful for the thought, and decided to eat whatever Cecil had sent us to that night for supper.

I was secretly thrilled by Cecil's coming, and I just knew that I could fall in love with that boy, if I were not already engaged to love someone else. I can't tell you why, but that's the truth. I suppose I should be ashamed of it, but I am not.

We went for a long walk after our luncheon, and then took a boat and rowed out into the middle of the Sound and just sat and let the sun bake our backs in a way that neither words nor pictures can describe. We drifted about, and then we dived off the boat and swam around lazily for a while.

BILLY WHISKER

FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

When Billy heard the voices in the house where the reception was to be, he turned and walked into the front room. This apartment was furnished in keeping with the magnificence of the parlor floor. White mahogany, mahogany chairs and table, a high four-poster bed with satin and lace coverings, silver toilet articles on the dresser, silver and cut glass vases everywhere filled with pink roses and white hyacinths, and again, a multitude of soft-lit lights, which enhanced the beauty of everything in the room.

The scent of the flowers reminds me of the clover in the meadows. I must have a taste of them. So Billy tasted and then ate one entire bouquet for the flavor was so fine he could not stop at one bite. Then, lightning to feel the effects of his weakness, he escaped with the boys, and lulled by the warmth, light, perfume and music surrounding him, he jumped up in the middle of the beautiful bed, and stretched himself out on the exquisite pink satin and lace coverlet, prepared for enjoying a good rest. Nothing was too good for the use of Billy Jr. When the first guests entered the room they scarcely glanced at the bed, going first to the mirror to adjust their hair and reposition their noses. Suddenly, one of the ladies dropped the comb with a clatter, her eyes nearly dropping from their sockets and her face blanched with surprise and fear, for, reflected in the mirror, she saw two long horns suddenly raised from what she had supposed to be a black fur coat, and, screaming at the top of her voice, she turned and stood staring with open-eyed wonder at the sight before her. Her screams brought the entire household scurrying to the scene. She could not explain but dropped into a chair, completely overcome. Words, however, were needless, for there stood Billy in the middle of the great four-poster, self-confident, and quite as surprised as any of the onlookers. For a moment he did not know which way to turn, but finally, seeing a door opposite the one in which the people all stood, he jumped for that and from there made his escape into a small room which connected with the hall. Down the steps he went, upsetting the fat butler with whom he came in contact on his way down and, without pausing to offer his apologies, hurried into the street and hurriedly left the neighborhood.

The goat episode was the main topic of conversation that afternoon among the fair five hundred, and Billy would have been flattered could he have heard himself described as "fierce looking as a lion and as large as a bear."

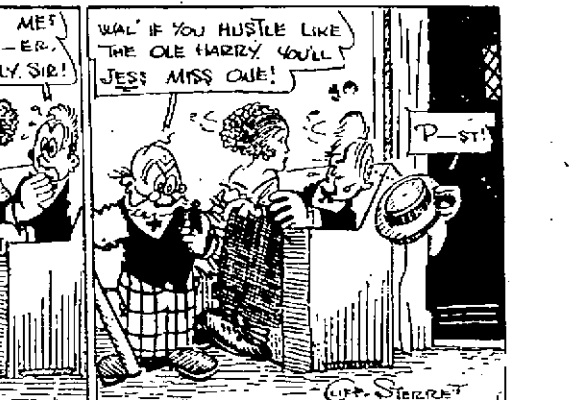

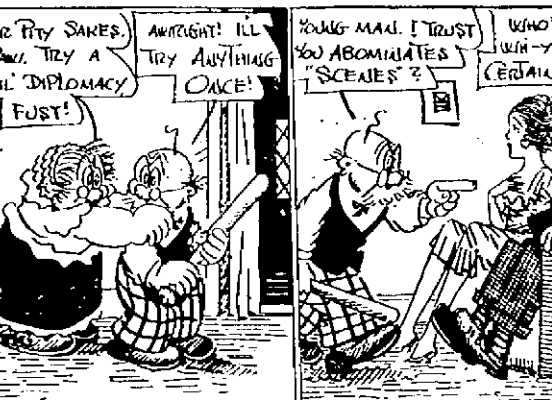

(Tomorrow Billy meets a new friend.)

M'ADOO BOOM MAY BE USED TO BREAK POSSIBLE DEADLOCK

COX AND PALMER HAVE INSIDE TRACK FOR NOMINATION

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—First part of the Democratic national convention were to be held today when the national committee met to draw up the temporary roll of delegates. Three contests had been called to the committee's attention but only one of them, that involving efforts to give Senator Reed of Missouri, a seat with the delegation from that state, promised more than routine interest. Only one contest, that from Georgia, has been officially filed with the committee.

The Georgia contest results were expected by party leaders to be settled in favor of delegates friendly to the candidacy of Attorney General Palmer, for the presidential nomination, the decision carried with it confirmation of Clark Howell as national committeeman from the state. There appeared to be no question as to the result in what was described as a "regular case," where statutory provisions in the state and party rules dictated the course of the committee.

The Reed case may prove more difficult to deal with. An effort to place the senator on the floor of the convention, although the Missouri state convention rejected him as a delegate at large, was expected and because of his attitude toward the administration, during senate battles over the new treaty, it was said to be possible that strong resistance would be met before the committee.

The third contest, from Oregon, was regarded as a serious case, and might not, it was said, materialize at all. In fact, national committee officials did not know before they assembled to examine credentials what percentage was to be made in any of the contested cases.

Overnight developments show two factors that have been in a relationship since the first Democratic primary arrived here to be approaching more definite shape. These were the registration and persistent local nomination of Wm. G. McAdoo, against his flat declaration that he was not a candidate, and the contest as to a prohibition enforcement plank in the platform.

McAdoo adherents were said early today to be shaping their plans to withhold the name from the balloting throughout the early stages. They expected that the former secretary of the treasury will have a strong following but are said to feel that in view of his attitude it would not be expedient to present his name unless the expected deadlock between the leading candidates, Palmer and Governor Cox, of Ohio, should develop.

In that event there appeared to be little doubt that McAdoo would be forced forward in behalf of the prohibition plank. The likelihood of considerable strength at the start, his friends intended to have put their friends together in a platform of this nature and to put out strategy of the subsequent campaign to obtain for him the two thirds majority on which Democratic nominations must rest.

As the prohibition enforcement plank, therefore the most prominent subject of discussion in convention circles, there developed yesterday a sudden movement to ignore the question entirely in the platform. Supporters of this plan came to Chairman Cummings of the national committee from camps representing various shades of opinion, ranging

The first story of Abe Martin will appear in Saturday's Times. Watch for it and others to follow daily while the Democratic convention lasts.

OPENING STOCKS

NEW YORK, June 25.—The usual irregular price changes were recorded by leading issues at the outset of today's stock market session. Gains outnumbered recessions however short covering being again induced by more circumstantial rumors of gold imports. Crucible steel and Mexican petroleum opened at advances of a point, with fractional gains for several of the food, chemical and motor specialties. Hides and leather preferred lost a point and transcontinental rails, Pullman, Royal Dutch and Middle States Oil reflected pressure.

DARING WOMAN KILLED
CLEVELAND, June 25.—Mrs. Rose Tetlow, 29, was shot and killed when she chased two niggers who entered her store and grabbed cash drawer.

DRINKING BOUT ENDS FATALITY
CHICAGO, June 25.—John A. Hogan, 43, died, and two others seriously ill as result of drinking contest said to have been held at a saloon.

From bone dry to almost as completely wet.
These feelers towards a harmony program were not clear enough today among workers for various presidential candidates. The first of the large delegations will arrive within the next two days and preparations for missionary work among the members were in progress. Various combinations for the tickets were being talked over with a view to arranging in secure for this or that aspirant votes to be brought to his standard through a prearranged agreement as to the vice presidency.

None of these tentative tickets appeared, however, to have more belie than the speculation of campaign managers.

ATTEMPT TO OUST REED FROM THE PARTY MAY CAUSE BATTLE AT DEM CONVENTION

Senator James A. Reed.

There is talk that the Democratic national convention will attempt to read out of the party Senator James A. Reed of Missouri to show its loyalty to the policies of the present Democratic administration. Senator Reed is a delegate from the Fifth congressional district in his home state. If this action is taken by the convention then the convention committee on credentials will follow by unseating him. These moves will provoke a battle, his friends say. Reed always has been known as a "scrapper."

BELIEVE RAIL WAGE BOARD PROMISE WILL SQUELCH FURTHER STRIKE OUTBREAK

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Representatives of the railroad unions expressed belief today that the demands of early action by the railway wage board on wage demands would tend to squelch further strike disturbances.

With the return to work last night of practically all striking railroad employees, the railway wage board officials announced they would be able to handle freight to and from the south without delay. The walkout, they said, has caused congestion at the gateway and the re-routing of cars through other points. Efforts were renewed today to rush freight from the south to northern points.

At the same time the interstate commerce commission is watching the strikes in the eastern railroad centers, being particularly concerned as to the effect of the walkouts on its recent efforts to relieve freight congestion and to move coal to New England and other eastern points, where a coal shortage prevails.

TOO MANY SMITHS IN THE RACE; HOT BATTLE OPENS

COLUMBUS, O., June 25.—Political interest in Ohio centered today on the contest filed with the secretary of state by O. K. Shilmansky of Lakewood (Cleveland), secretary of the Ohio State Board of Commerce, against the candidacy of Harold G. Smith of Ellettsville, for the Republican nomination for secretary of state.

These in touch with the situation said the next move in the political battle probably would come in Ellettsville of the 21-year-old candidate for the office. Young Smith is reported to be determined to continue as a candidate.

Mr. Shilmansky, who acted in his private capacity as a member of the Republican party in filing the protest, charged that he "had reason to believe that the candidacy of Harold G. Smith is not genuine, that he became a candidate after being solicited to do so by the secretary of state for the purpose of confusing the voters of Ohio." The protest alleges the move is a political plot to confuse the voters of Ohio.

Harold G. Smith, with that of Harvey C. Smith, present secretary of state. He says in his protest that an attempt is being made to make a mockery of the state primary law.

Mr. Shilmansky also has called upon Harold G. Smith to appear and verify his position. The telegram in which this demand was embodied was received by Smith at Ellettsville last night. It is reported.

In a statement, Mr. Shilmansky declared the Ellettsville Smith is "a mere school boy."

PLOT REVOLT AGAINST U. S. RULE

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Evidence of the formation of a united communist party by the consolidation of the Communist Labor party and the Communist party, with the avowed purpose of fomenting a revolution against the existing government was received today at the department of justice. Steps are being taken, officials said, to guard against the spread of the propaganda.

Communist publications in the hands of the department announce the formation of the new party of a revolution.

HAIL STONES BIG AS APPLES WRECK FARM BUILDINGS

CHEYENNE, Wyo., June 25.—Hail stones as large as apples crashed through roofs at HILLSDALE, 12 miles from here last night and reduced two farm buildings near there to kindling wood, according to telephone reports early today. No casualties were reported but searching parties were sent out from Hillsdale to the storm swept area.

Some of the hail stones were said to have been 18 inches in circumference. Motorists caught in the storm crawled beneath their machines, the tops affording no protection, the reports said.

An airplane piloted by Captain C. A. McKenzie of Cheyenne last was reported at Pine Bluffs, near the storm district.

One Dry Well Total Assets Of Company

NEW YORK, June 25.—A dozen or more of the 50 persons caught in a net spread by post office inspectors for operators suspected of using wire to defraud through the sale of worthless oil stocks, were expected to appear in federal court today for arraignment on indictments returned yesterday.

The indictments, five in number, charge four oil companies, ten brokerage concerns and 50 individual defendants in various cities with having used the mails to circulate "literature" which resulted in the purchase of worthless stocks by hundreds of customers. Federal authorities said the total of sales would run into the millions.

Further indictments are promised. Lewis C. Van Riper, formerly secretary to Thomas W. Lawson, was the only one of the indicted men who appeared in court yesterday. He appeared voluntarily and was held in $20,000 bail.

The indictment against Van Riper named also the United Securities Company of New York and Boston, in which he is said to be heavily interested; the Barker Oil company and Charles Packer & Company, New York brokers. All are charged with promoting the sale of "hanger company" stock, which the indictment alleges represents no more in assets than one dry well.

Democrat To Welcome Harding

MARTIN, O., June 25.—A Democrat, D. R. Crissinger, of Marion, will welcome Senator Harding to the homecoming celebration to be held here July 5. Mr. Crissinger, twice a candidate for congress and president of the Marion civic association, was chosen to deliver the address of welcome, the exercises will be held in President's Grove, near the Harding home.

Carroll R. Huntress, secretary of the civic association, has returned to Marion from Canton, where he went to obtain information as to how the latter city handled the crowds during the "front porch" campaign of Major McKinley. Information received at Canton will be used to advantage. It was announced, during the campaign here of Senator Harding.

Cheering hint from San Francisco. The leaders seem disposed to put a damper on fool talk.

The premiers of the Allies have recessed their last conference without coming to a common understanding on all matters. However, as they are all agreed Germany must pay the rest ought to be easy.

Never could "get it," why with such abundant prosperity on all sides there was so much turmoil and kicking. French philosopher explains it satisfactorily. Says it is the result of a fever on the sun.

The weather man should change his prognostication. If he would say it is going to be rainy weather, it would, probably, turn out to be dry.

One reason why prices are high is the United States exported products to the value of $739,000,000 in May and brought in only $31,000,000 and it has been pretty much the same for the past eleven months.

Again we arise to remark that each and every census announcement shows that the star of empire is still on its westward course, without any apparent thought of turning back.

New-York - Day - By - Day

BY G. C. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 25.—Thoughts while strolling around New York: Ploek of pigeons in Times Square. A poet could do something with the idea. There's Chic Sale back from the California studio. Irvin Cobb picked him for the film version of his short story "The Finest Ape." Every body wearing smoked glasses. Wonder if it's wood alcohol.

Broadway's freak palace closed. Lure of the circus was too strong for the human curios. It's hard to believe but that man has blond hair. He's got it on a corner. Gifted cockatoos in cages along the curb to tell your housework. I once spent my last nickel in St. Louis to have my housework told. I got the information that my fortunes were low. Low didn't begin to describe them.

Three automobile drivers tag each other now with the sign: "Just learning to drive." Be careful. Keep your head. The head waiter. Knows all the millionaires and spends three months a year at his villa in France. Oppenheim used him as a central character in one of his novels.

Old fellow with his whiskers tucked inside his vest. Wonder if that is considered gauche in whisker circles. A fellow carrying a pall of ice on his head. Suppose to sit up with a sick friend last night. The perfume of fresh cut grass and there isn't a lawn in sight. A crowd gathered around a dead bat.

Seems like there won't be any more barber shops where you can read the Police Gazette. All the new ones are highly sanitary and remind you of the operating room in a hospital. A king (Lardner) says for four years he always picked out a barber that had had the best hair cut until he thought the matter out for himself.

The fellow with the protuberant jaw has been following me for six blocks. And I have nothing on my hip but a handkerchief. O Goody! Goody! Unhappy lies the hip that wears a pin. Sounded good at first—but it looks rotten in type. So I'll cease.

The day of the old-fashioned conventional night shirt and modest pajamas is over, according to New York dealers in men's wear. Men are now demanding color in their night clothes. Lavender and pink, stripes of every color, flowered material and everything that has a bizarre touch is demanded. Dealers say that before the war and prohibition a male customer was insulted if he was shown anything in blue or night wear. He wanted only white. Now they declare that white is only for those ready for the undergarments. Jazz, it appears, has even reached Slumberland.

For a number of years they have only tolerated one another for that (theatrical) exercise—their little child. He has gone his way and she has gone hers. By a queer trick of fate they were seated in the same box at a Broadway opening the other night. He was with a strange woman and she was with a strange man. Only two avenues of escape were open. Incredulous or departures. They hit upon the former and a more amazing complication was presented. The strange man was the divorced husband of the strange woman. The divorced pair had never mentioned being married years ago in the west. And the comedian said humorously during the process of the play: "It's a small world after all."

New York druggists are worried by a new tax problem. "Chewing gum" that claims to be good for the digestion or for the throat comes under the government heading of patent medicines and is therefore liable for an extra penny tax.

The appointment of Maj. Gen. John A. Le Jeune to succeed Maj. Gen. George Barnett as commander of the U. S. marine corps is one more signal honor that has just come to the man who commanded all the marines in France during the critical days of America's participation in the war.

JACQUES LEJEUNE

General Le Jeune was born in Pointe Claire, Parish, Louisiana, in 1867 and was appointed to the U. S. Naval Academy in 1885. He graduated in 1889 and served on the U. S. S. Vandalia and was wrecked on that vessel in the memorable hurricane in the harbor of Apia, Samoa, in 1891. He was appointed a second lieutenant in the marines in 1890, first lieutenant in 1892, captain in 1899, major in 1903, lieutenant colonel in 1905, colonel in 1911 and brigadier in 1916.

General Le Jeune was in command of the marines on board the Cincinnati during the Spanish-American war; commanded a battalion of marines on the island of Iloilo in the Philippines, 1900-01; commanded a brigade of marines during the capture of Vera Cruz, 1914, and was made assistant to the commandant of the marine corps at Washington in 1915. When America entered the war he was commander of the marine barracks at Quantico, Va. He was put in command of all the marines in France when General Devan was recalled home. It was while he was serving in France that Le Jeune was raised to his present rank of major general.

HOMEGAIN HIKAM—He sees the Opening of the Democratic Convention. But Decides That A Reporter's Life Is Too Strenuous For Him And Quits.

Dear Editor and readers:
Well I saw the big convention—the grandest show on earth—and now I'm satisfied and I'm done with this report stuff for good. The show was going full blast when I arrived at the Auditorium and I started to walk right in but a guard stopped me and asked for my ticket. That started the nucleus. I had no ticket but insisted on going in regardless. I didn't aim to travel 2,000 miles and not see the big doings—there was so much to see. I made a statement inside that our little argument about my admission ticket got by—but much the worse for me—there were guards all over the place. I finally landed in the gallery—I found out afterwards the seats there were worth $100 each. The interior of the hall seemed as big as all outdoors and was decorated with millions of flags and chains filled with a hollow and singing mass of men and women. On a little stage that looked like the officer's mess in a battle ship a man was trying to make a speech—it was a wonderful sight and worth the trip and the fight to get in. If I can get my grip out of the belly of Shamus I'll get out of the belly of Shamus I'll take the first train for Homegain—Hikam.

The Diary of an Engaged Girl

CITIZEN'S LOVE MAKING IS HARD TO RESIST

The men took their departure sometime around midnight, and then Jerry and I had a grand laugh at Jean and Cecile. We ate a little supper before retiring, and finished into our beds, happily.

The next morning we went cleaning, and got enough claims for a little good lunch, which we ate on the lawn in our bathing suits. It was while we were sitting and eating, thus dried, or rather lightly attired, that we heard a halloo and saw the tall form of Cecil coming towards us from the house. Of course we were not upset at all, in fact, what though we had our hands down our backs trying and on-piece bathing suits on, and all that. We smiled at the intruder and waved him some lunch—what was left of it, which he accepted eagerly.

I felt compelled to ask this important relation of mine how he dared to be in this lovely spot on our happy, happy holiday, and he told me that neither had sent him with a large parcel of goodies, which were in the car, and wanting our approval. Poor, dear mother. No doubt she was worried to death that we would be too lazy to cook ourselves any meals. She knows us pretty well, after all. We were grateful for the thought, and decided to eat whatever had been sent to us that night for supper.

I was so sorry that Cecil had come, and I just knew that I could fall in love with that boy, if I were not already engaged to love someone else. I don't tell you why, but that's the truth. I suppose I should be ashamed of it, but I am not.

We went for a long walk after our luncheon, and then took a boat and rowed out into the middle of the Sound and just sat and let the sun bake our backs in a way that mother would have been horrified at. We drifted about, and now and then we dived off the boat and swam around lazily for a while.

BILLY WHISKERS

BY FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

When Billy heard the voices in the house where the reception was to be, he turned and walked into the front room. This apartment was furnished in keeping with the magnificence of the parlor floor. White woodwork, mahogany chairs and table, a high four-poster bed with satin and lace coverings, silver toilet articles on the dresser, silver and pink vases everywhere filled with pink roses and white hydrangeas, and again, a multitude of soft-tinted lights which enhanced the beauty of everything the eye rested upon.

"The scent of the flowers reminds me of the clover in the meadows. I must have a taste of them." So Billy tasted and then ate one entire bouquet for the flavor was so fine he could not stop at one bite. Then, beginning to feel the effects of his weariness escape with the boys, and lulled by the warmth, light, perfume and music surrounding him, he jumped up in the middle of the beautiful bed, and stretched himself out on the exquisite pink satin and lace coverlet, preparing to enjoy a good rest. Nothing was too good for the use of Billy Jr.

When the first guests entered the room they scarcely glanced at the bed, going first to the mirror to adjust their hair and repowder their noses. Suddenly, one of the ladies dropped the comb with a clatter, her eyes nearly dropping from their sockets and her face blanched with surprise and fear, for, reflected in the mirror, she saw two long horns suddenly protrude from what she had supposed to be a black fur coat, and screaming at the top of her voice, she turned and stood staring with open-eyed wonder at the sight before her. Her scream brought the entire household scrambling to the scene. She could not explain but dropped into a chair, completely overcome. Words, however, were needless, for there stood Billy in the middle of the great four-poster, self-covered, and quite as surprised as any of the onlookers. For a moment he did not know which way to turn, but finally, seeing a door opposite the one in which the people all stood, he jumped for that and from there made his escape into a small room which connected with the bath. Down the steps he went, upsetting the fat butler with whom he came in contact on his way down and without pausing to offer his apologies, hastened into the street and hurriedly left the neighborhood.

The coat episode was the main topic of conversation that afternoon among the fair few hundred, and Billy would have been flattered could he have heard himself described as "three looking as a lion and as large as a bear."

(Tomorrow Billy meets a new friend.)

Koreans Well Advanced.

The Koreans are much superior to both Japanese and Chinese in culture of heart and in mentality. They are progressive on constructive lines; in economies they equal America, and their spiritual side is well balanced, both men and women being eager for knowledge on ethical lines. They are self-reliant and refined in their moral nature.—Chicago Daily News.

"Have I been dropping them?" he asked humbly.

Put Away
A lady who had been giving a party told her maid to get away all the refreshments that were left on the tables before retiring to bed. The next day, on looking, the lady could not find them, and called to her maid:
"Hiddest, what did you do with these things I told you to put away last night?"
Hiddest—"Sure, mum, and yet told me to put 'em away, and I did, mum, and enjoyed 'em."—Paragon's Weekly.

Pat and Mick of the Dublin Fusiliers had a little matter to settle and adjourned to a convenient spot to adjust it. Just as Pat had given Mick his "sleeping draught" the padre happened to come upon the scene.

The padre helped Mick to revive, and when the latter was in a state to understand again the padre said to him: "I shall pray that you forgive Pat for that blow."

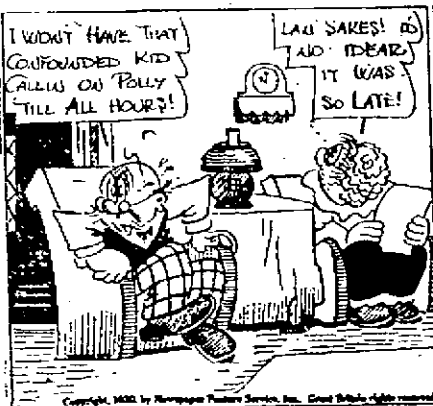

Mick shook his head slowly and said: "Save time, for reverence; just wait until I'm fit again and then pray for Pat."

Woman Killed By Auto

HUNTINGTON, June 24.—Another death was added to the already long list of automobile fatalities in Cabell county at 8 o'clock last night when Miss Alma Cyrus, 22, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cyrus, of Cyrus Creek, was struck by an automobile driven by Harry Roberts, of Milton, and almost instantly killed.

Miss Cyrus was walking in the road when Roberts' car crashed into her and hurled her 50 feet. The force of the blow knocked one of the shoes from her feet.

Roberts is said to have been unable to stop the car until he had gone by approximately 75 feet. He turned back and started for help.

MUSTARD WILL CASE BEING HEARD

Trial of the celebrated will contest of Splice Mustard and others against Charles O. Mustard was begun before Judge Thomas and a jury in Common Pleas court Friday morning.

Madison Mustard, late Otway farmer, died more than two years ago, leaving the bulk of his estate, consisting principally of a valuable farm near Otway, under his will, which was admitted to probate, to his son, the defendant, and cutting his other children off without anything. They then brought suit to set aside the will on the grounds of lack of mental capacity and undue influence.

This is the second trial of the case, and in the other hearing the defense contended that Mr. Mustard had made provision for his other children, previous to his death. The other trial resulted in the court directing a verdict sustaining the will, but Court of Appeals held this was error and remanded the case for retrial.

Quite an array of witnesses were present in court this morning, to testify in the case and it probably will require the entire day to complete the evidence.

Attorneys Theo K. Funk and Miller & Seay for the contestants, opposed by Attorney A. Z. Blair for the proponent of the will.

The truck came up Eleventh street, turned north on Waller, and east on Twelfth without stopping. After he had struck the boy, bystanders say they yelled at the driver who kept on going.

The boy was injured by the hard fall, and suffered many bruises, besides a deep gash in the forehead, and a badly hurt nose. He was unconscious and delirious for a time, and can not remember the details of the accident. Clyde Cook carried him to the Francis home which is just across the street.
